

Senior Consultant

Darren Jones

Atlanta, Georgia

Darren Jones comes to FranklinCovey with an extensive career providing executive, leadership, and personal development coaching to organizations in the private and public sectors. He has worked with several industries, including Hypergrowth startups, tech, nonprofits, utilities, financial services, government agencies, and higher education. Darren has supported a range of professionals, including new professionals, individual contributors, emerging leaders, diverse leaders, and frontline/mid-level managers. He facilitates cohort-based leadership programs, Gallup Strengthfinders workshops, and Positive Intelligence (Saboteur) workshops.

As a facilitator/coach, Darren guarantees a dynamic and transformational learning experience while building confidence in yourself and others to take on the challenges in the workplace and beyond. He infuses energy into sessions that pull the participant into the experience. He creates a space where others feel safe to be vulnerable and open to paradigm shifts, leading to lasting change.

Education & Certifications

- B.A. Sociology & American Studies
- M.A. Higher Education Administration
- EdD, Student Affairs Leadership
- Board Certified Coach (BCC) - Center for Credentialing & Education, Certified Professional CoActive Coach (CPCC) - CoActive Training Institute, Professional Certified Coach (PCC) - International Coaching Federation, Masteries Practitioner - International Association of Coaching
- Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach

What learners say about Darren...

'Darren was very knowledgeable about each topic and listened to and encouraged us to explore our ideas more. Very energetic throughout the WHOLE training. Didn't make you feel stupid. Gave good feedback when we were incorrect or misguided. Very positive experience.'

Highlights

Supported 500+ managers/ICs at hypergrowth startups through executive coaching and leadership facilitation

Professional Certified Coach through International Coaching Federation

Doctorate in Education from the University of Georgia

Amazing family of an awesome husband and beautiful baby boy

Love to dance and co-founded a hip-hop dance group in college
