

Senior Consultant

Les Kaschner

Phoenix, Arizona

Les has been in Leadership positions for over 35 years. He started out as an executive in the nonprofit world and moved into the private/ profit sector to learn more about being an effective leader.

He has served in Leadership Roles in Sales, Operations, Quality and Learning and Development. His diversity of work has been in the Utility, Wholesale, International Marketing, and Real Estate Industries. This varied career made him a natural as a Senior Consultant at FranklinCovey.

Les's strength is to help learners apply the powerful content of the FranklinCovey Brand.

Education & Certifications

- B.S. Communication
- M.S. Counseling

What learners say about Les...

"Les is spot on. He delivers information in entertaining and impactful way. Informative with real world applications. I can take what we did in the call back to my team and refine our strategy and vision."

"Les is humorous but sincere. he moves through the content with a mastery understanding without making it feel like a lecture."

Highlights

Assisted in Helping a Major Airline Implement 100Million dollars in Cost savings in 100 days

Served as a Leader of cultural change in an international Organization

Provide Coaching support to internal consultants and external client

Top utilized consultant for FranklinCovey for 14 years

Adjunct professor in Prestigious Midwest MBA program teaching Organization Theory and Behavior
