

Senior Consultant

Susan Sabo

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Susan Sabo joined FranklinCovey in 2012. When working with clients, she quickly becomes their partner in leveraging their investment in FranklinCovey capabilities and content. That collaboration yields results for participants and their organization.

Susan brings a thorough knowledge of FranklinCovey's content and focuses tailoring sessions for impact. Participants note that she embodies the subject matter, engages them throughout sessions, and has contagious energy, especially virtually.

In her career, Susan sold computers, managed relationships with major accounts for a telecom company, managed a territory for a major computer hardware company, had an independent productivity consultancy, and marketed for a leading software producer.

Education

- B.A. Business Administration

Highlights

Earned Chairman Choice Club for delivery excellence multiple years

Is affectionately called a "techie" on the consultant team because of her tech background and knowledge

Mentors recent college graduates toward career success and financial independence

As an explorer, visited 59 countries around the globe

Is a bit of a pickleball nut
