Kari Saddler

Fort Worth, Texas

Kari Saddler believes everyone deserves leadership that inspires and empowers them. With over twenty years of experience as a business leader, executive coach, and consultant, Kari brings an adventurous energy to every engagement. She's known for delivering results and creating client experiences that provide both psychological safety and firm accountability. Kari's clients consistently praise her ability to facilitate quick, actionable clarity in times of conflict or transition.

Kari has an extensive corporate background with notable roles at J.P. Morgan Chase, WellCare, and Tampa General Hospital. Among many career achievements, she implemented executive development programs, spearheaded data-driven customer satisfaction initiatives, and consulted with leaders and their teams to create, measure, and accomplish business-critical goals. In partnership with FranklinCovey, Kari led one of the largest implementations of Culture Care: Leading at the Speed of Trust® at Tampa General Hospital. In six months, more than 7,000 associates, leaders, and physicians attended Speed of Trust work sessions.
