

Affinity Federal Credit Union

Breaking Down Silos and Developing a Common Language

Challenge

Affinity Federal Credit Union (AFCU) is the largest credit union headquartered in New Jersey with over 500 employees and over 230,000 credit union members. As an organization, they value growth and innovation. Despite having strong systems, team communication was ineffective. This created silos through departments and lowered employee engagement.

Solution

AFCU partnered with industry leader FranklinCovey to help bolster their leadership. The 7 Habits for Managers® gave AFCU leaders a common language to lead through challenges successfully. It also allowed their managers to reframe their mindsets to those of engagement and development.

Building on the principle-based content found in The 7 Habits for Managers course, AFCU partnered with FranklinCovey's Custom Team to relate all examples back to credit unions. Together, AFCU and FranklinCovey crafted a set of courses for leaders focusing on 10 competencies including adaptability, business acumen, and questioning.

"When our employees are developed, our member engagement goes up," commented Pam Cohen, senior vice president people, culture & administration.

"Six years ago, everyone had their own processes and ways of doing things. Leadership just wasn't on the same page," Pam Cohen said. "FranklinCovey has broken down the silos. All of the different departments have started communicating with each other. Everyone is participating. It's amazing!"

AFCU has completed The 7 Habits for Managers, The 4 Essential Roles of Leadership[®], and Multipliers[®]: How the Best Leaders Ignite Everyone's Intelligence. Currently, they have expanded to Leading at the Speed of Trust[®] and Unconscious Bias: Understanding Bias to Unleash Potential[™]. They utilize FranklinCovey's
