

Senior Consultant and Coach

Nnenna Ozobia

Las Vegas, Nevada

Highlights

Top-rated facilitator and leadership coach who has worked cross-culturally with professionals from over 50 countries

Leadership fellowships: Aspen Institute, Coro Southern CA, and the International Career Advancement Program

Associate Certified Coach (International Coaching Federation)

Born in Las Vegas, Nevada to Nigerian Igbo immigrants

Spanish and Mandarin speaker (HSK 2) passionate about the use of educational tools to bridge differences

Nnenna's background spans over two decades of domestic and overseas work - primarily in the San Francisco Bay Area, Washington D.C., Latin America, and East Asia. She has partnered with nonprofits, charities, federal, state, and local government, educational institutions, and healthcare and technology companies.

She delivers engagements in English and Spanish for leaders at all levels on FranklinCovey's training solutions and partners with Sales teams on business development. Nnenna is also an ICF-certified coach who has provided guidance to hundreds of managers and individual contributors.

Previously, Nnenna served on the senior leadership team for Coro Northern California (an 80-year old leadership development organization) and was the lead trainer and coach for the University of California Women's Initiative for Professional Development, the Federal Executive Board, and the Water Solutions Network. Nnenna has also served in managerial roles focused on organizational development and public health and has worked in global development to mobilize millions of dollars to advance social and economic inclusion.

Education & Certifications

- B.A. – International Relations & Spanish – Stanford University
- M.A. – International Economics – Johns Hopkins University
- Associate Certified Coach through the International Coaching Federation, with additional coach training in the Coactive® model and Positive Intelligence®.
- Certified in: Mental Health First Aid | Mindful Leadership | Community Meditation | English as a Second Language

What learners say about Nnenna...

"Wow - How great is Nnenna - she is a wonderful facilitator - full of experience, insights and knowledge, leading and guiding with compassion and inclusiveness."

"Nnenna offered a masterclass in facilitation, creating participatory opportunities for reflection, discussion, and exploration and approachable in her interaction with us."