

Senior Leadership Consultant

Jean White

Yorktown, Virginia

As a Senior Leadership Consultant with FranklinCovey, Jean partners with organizations across a wide range of industries to develop people at every level—from individual contributors and frontline employees to managers and senior executives. She is passionate about equipping people with the skills, tools, and techniques that empower them to move from good to great, enabling individuals, teams, and organizations to achieve exceptional results.

Jean's work helps organizations strengthen execution, build cultures of trust, accountability, collaboration, and create environments where people can thrive. Every engagement is tailored to the unique needs and goals of the organization, whether facilitating transformative learning experiences or helping teams improve communication, performance, and effectiveness. Jean believes there is greatness in everyone, and is committed to helping people discover it, develop it, and put it into action to create meaningful, lasting results.

Education & Certifications

- Bachelor of Science - Radford University

What learners say about Jean...

"You can tell from working with Jean that this is her calling. She is a professional. She keeps the class going while taking the time to hear our feedback. I truly enjoy her insight and knowledge."

"Jean's passion for teaching shines through in every session. She keeps participants engaged from start to finish, makes even challenging topics easy to understand, and genuinely cares about each participant's progress. She has made a significant impact on my learning experience and is truly one of the most effective facilitators I have encountered."

"Jean's passion for the material, combined with her organization and professionalism, makes her someone I truly admire and aspire to emulate."

Highlights

Joined FranklinCovey in 1990, giving her more than 3 decades of consulting experience

One of the most sought-after consultants at FranklinCovey

Recipient of the FranklinCovey Chairman's Club Award

Lives in Yorktown, Virginia with her husband, Chris, and beautiful family